ABOUT

The Phoenix Center is the designated county authority for the prevention and treatment of substance use disorders in Greenville County. With a person and family centered approach, we treat each individual based on the needs identified during the assessment and treatment planning process. Staff interact with clients in a positive, encouraging, and non-judgmental manner to support them through every stage in the treatment process. Utilizing an array of evidence based practices, we treat substance use disorders in a holistic manner through the use of traditional therapy such as group, family, and individual counseling. We also utilize Medication Assisted Therapy and 12-Step recovery groups to build a network of support.

Our counselors work with adolescents, ages 7-17, who are involved in substance use or at risk due to other issues, including family problems. We do this through individual sessions, group counseling, family therapy, mental health screenings, art & music therapy, life skills development, and anger management. All of these work to help the adolescent progress through the treatment plan, towards recovery and a healthy life.
